DANGER.

The topic of greatest political interest in this country to-day is the Presidential question. The country is already being roused to a sense of danger, excited by the Grant boom. Many voters of both great political parties are beginning to fear that Democracy in America is threatened by the Third Term movement. Men who are not politicians, who take no part in public life, ripe scholars, students of history, are crying out against it. Hear James Freeman Clarke:

"Setting aside all sentimental considerations, drawn from the fact that neither Washington, Jackson, nor Lincoln ever received this honor, I am opposed to it as a precedent dangerous to our institutions. To invite a military chief to office under the pretence of repressing disorder is always dangerous. He is easily led to believe it necessary to assume extraordinary power to save the State. We have been preserved from such dangers in the past by the voluntary retirement of our great Presidents into private life after one or two terms of service."

Read the opinion of President Seelye of Amherst College:

"It would seem to me a national calamity to elect a President for a third term, not only because this would violate the requirements which the unwritten constitution of the country has established, but because it would tend to weaken among the people the sense of self dependence, whose strength gives the only security to a government of the people."

This is what President Chadborne of Williams College thinks:

"After the precedents of so many years in favor of two terms, there certainly should be some good reason given for departing from our traditional custom in this respect. There is nothing in the condition of our affairs that calls for such a change. The American people need as President the best man we can find, but they are the rulers and he the servant. The time has not come for them to call for a 'strong man' in any other sense than one strong to do the bidding of the people. We need no ruler with kingly or dictatorial power."

President Capen of Tufts College is not in doubt:

"The election of Grant for a third term would be a menace to our free institutions and republican form of government. Men may laugh at the suggestion that our institutions are likely to fail. But whoever has carefully studied the history of imperial Rome cannot fail to see that we have been traveling very rapidly in that direction during the last few years, and we ought to be careful that we do not have a ruler who has no other motive than indolence and love of ease to restrain him from a course of action which would be fatal to the hopes of struggling and down-trodden humanity throughout the world. The good sense and patriotic instincts of the American people must save us from such a catastrophe."

A MARKED CONTRAST.

In George Washington's days, there was no "running for office." That term came in with a later school of "statesmen." But when Washington was tendered, at the close of his second term as President, a reelection to that high office, he declined, as everybody knows. It is not so well-remembered, however, that when the Federalists were so bitterly opposed to a second term for John Adams, Washington was urged by many public men to consent to again administer the Government. The Springfield Republican has republished Grant's written reply to their request. It is very interesting reading at this time. This is an extract: "Prudence on my part must arrest any attempt of the well-meant, but mistaken, views of my friends to introduce me again into the chair of Government."

Washington did not want a third term, believing it would not be to the interest of his country. When asked to declare himself, he did so plainly and unmistakably. Washington did not say: "I hope the necessity for my re-nomination may not arise." Nor did he go about the country getting up a Washington boom; neither did he take a trip to Cuba to dodge his questioners. He did not try to find whether or not he could be elected, before he spoke his mind.

What a difference between Washington and Grant! What a contrast between the grand old statesman and this intriguing office seeker!

THE PROSPECT IN NEW YORK.

Considering it conceded that New York will be the pivotal state in the Presidential election, the following from that great Democratic newspaper, the New York Sun, should convey a cheering assurance to Republicans: "On the whole, the present prospect for the Democratic party in the state of New York is not encouraging. It is a good deal like diving a pair of black horses in a night so dark that you cannot see your hand before you. If Tilden is nominated Kelly will defeat him. If Kelly exalts another candidate over him, while Mr. Tilden may never protest, even in a whisper, yet if such candidate shall not, by some mysterious influence or sleight of hand, suddenly find the ground underneath him open and swallow him up, then all we have to say is that Samuel J. Tilden, for a man with so many 'bar's' of money, is a singularly saintly character."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The revival of the iron industry in the United States is one of the best indications of returning prosperity. The demand for iron is a sensitive gauge of the state of the country. A New York paper states that "on the 1st of January, 1879, the price of American pig iron was quoted at from $15 to $18 a ton. In July, 1879, it was from $17 50 to $20. At the end of December it was in active demand at from $33 to $35 a ton. During this month sales of the best foundry pig have been made at $40, and the furnaces have so many orders ahead that they are not anxious to make contracts at even present prices."

California has spent $20,000 in stocking her streams with shad and cat-fish, which John Chinaman is taking out as fast as he can by means of seines and nets. A bill has been introduced in the Legislature, making it a misdemeanor to catch any of these fish until July, 1882, except with hook and line. Should the bill pass, the Chinese will continue to pirate the waters, perhaps not catching the fish with seines, but by hook or crook. It is hard for the shad and the Chinaman to live in the same country. Which should go?

The Grant family seem to be lucky speculators. The General made a pot of money by a turn in stocks at Vir-City years ago; Mrs. Grant is said to have made $25,000 by a speculation in gold some years since, and now useless comes to the front with $100,000 made in a week on Wall street. If they continue lucky the family will need a "barrel" before long. Old Grant must have plenty of money now, or how could he buy a $4,000 horse to send to the Emperor of Japan? But perhaps, he got the horse charged, to be paid for after next November.

The ranks of the anti-vaccinationists have received a notable addition in Prof. F. W. Newman, who says in a published letter: "Whatever statistics may suggest, the guilt remains inexcusable of poisoning healthy blood under pretext of public health, and forbidding infants to grow up with blood unpolluted." He also says: "It is a public fact that small-pox has been far more fatal since vaccination was compulsory."

It is said that the New York State delegation to the National Republican Convention, to be held at Chicago next summer, will vote for Conkling for the Presidency. The New York Republican machinery is well under Conkling's control and will run as he may direct. But, outside of New York, who wants Conkling for President?

The whole navy of the United States, both rotten and half rotten, includes only sixty-nine vessels that can carry guns, although there are 143 that will float. Of these only six are ironclads, and they are in process of repair or need repairing. A bill has been introduced in Congress to provide for the reorganization of the navy.

Grant does well to visit Mexico. The study of the institutions of that country might prove very useful to him by-and-by in suppressing revolutions under his empire—should that be established.

The investigation into the Lady Bryan swindle concluded in Virginia without bringing to light the man who salted the hole or picked the drillings. It will probably remain one of the things "that no fellow can find out."

The Coast Mail says: "Oregon should manufacture its own sugar; there is no part of the world where the manufacture of beet sugar can be engaged in with better assurance of success than in Coos and Curry counties."

Oreos should manufacture her own umbrellas, anyhow.

The hydraulic miners of California are jubilant. The heavy snow fall in the mountains insures them plenty of water for mining operations next season.

The Cal. Supreme Court has decided that all bills must be read in full three times in the Legislature before they can be passed. An excellent check on hasty and tricky legislation.

N. Y. Herald: A physiognomist says that large ears denote generosity, which is probably the reason why a mule squanders his hind legs.

The Fusion Legislature of Maine has given up the fight, and adjourned till next August. The country has heard the last of it.

A hard winter in Switzerland. Lake Zurich has frozen over for the fourth time in a century.

Those 50,000 shares of Central Pacific, purchased by Gould and others, have been delivered.

Garfield is for Sherman.

NEWS NOTES.

It is just as easy to praise an old woman as a young one, and does an old one twice as much good.

The commissioners to erect a court house for Grant county, Ind., report that seven out of fifteen bidders for the contract offered bribes.

Public meetings are held at Oberlin, Ohio, for the purpose of driving the tobacco dealers out of town. Liquor sellers and billiard saloon keepers have already been expelled.

Last month the Premier, ex-Premier and Prime of England became respectively 75, 70 and 68, the two latter on the same day. Chief Justice Cockburn also attained his 75th birthday.

John Thompson, reduced from wealth to poverty, at Newport, R. I., sat down in a chair with the intention of staying there until he starved to death. He had been without food seven days when discovered.

It is now definitely arranged that the marriage of the Bishop of Manchester, England, to Miss Duncan of Bath, to whom he has been engaged for twenty-five years, shall take place immediately.

The usefulness of Major Whittle, the revivalist, was impaired at Rochester, Minn., by the discovery that his musical aid was the man who had sung songs in that place from a patent medicine wagon.

This being leap year, a young lady thought she would make a proposal, and she did. She proposed to the young man who had been keeping her up late nights that he clear out and give some one else a chance, and he took the hint and cleared.

A wealthy man of Augusta, Ga., carried a great deal of money in a very old pocketbook, and is glad he did so, because the pocketbook got only the worthless pocketbook, while the roll of bills slipped out and remained behind.

Before a fight between two factions of St. Louis schoolboys began, the combatants were all searched by a joint committee to see that nobody carried a weapon; but one boy effectually concealed a pistol, and shot an opponent with it.

Although glycerine was discovered by Scheele in 1779, it is only within the last few years that it has been manufactured commercially. Its value became known simultaneously with easy and cheap manufacture. France is now preeminent in its production.

So many of the impecunious availed themselves of the liberality of the Casino at Monaco in paying their passage home when "cleaned out," that in future no one will be thus accommodated who has omitted to deposit $100 caution money with Messrs Blanc before trying his luck.

Boucicault has written a new Irish play called "Fag-a-Ballad," that being his way of spelling the old war cry, "Fagh-a-Ballagh," or "Clear the way." He says the piece resembles "Oleoin Bawn" in the tone of its sentiment, and the "Shaughraun" in action. It will be acted first in London next spring.

Leopold I, of Belgium had an effective way of meeting discontent. He intimated on more than one occasion that kinging it was a matter of very small moment to him, and that due notice being given, he was quite ready to go at any time, if the people, through their representatives, expressed the wish that he should do so.

For the first time in English history a police agent has been attached to the personnel of the sovereign, and rooms have been fitted up for him and his family at Windsor Castle. The palaces, within and without, have always been guarded by police, the military being chiefly for ornament. The new agent will always travel with the Queen.

No Took the Hint.

From the Sun.
Young Fred, a bashful yet persistent swain, was very much in love with Mary Jane.
One night she told him, in her tenderest tone: "It is not good for man to be alone."

Said Fred, "Just so, you darling little elf, I've often thought of the same thing myself." Then said the lass, while Fred was all agog: "You ought to buy yourself a terrier dog."

He took the hint, and left.

One of Slade's Tricks.

From the Carson Tribune.

Slade on one occasion, at the request of a gentleman, wall known here as a man of integrity, took a stick of stove wood, placed it on a slate, held the slate and wood under a corner of a table which had previously been examined and found to be guileless of traps or anything of the kind, and immediately the stick or billet of wood disappeared and could not be found in the room. Shortly after he caused it to appear again. Not a bad idea for cold weather.

PACIFIC COAST ITEMS.

Only two failures in Utah in 1879. All the Marin and Alameda county hills are still snow-capped.

A wooden-rail railroad is suggested from Truckee to Sierra valley.

The Elko Mineral Soap Company now manufactures two tons daily.

Alturas, Modoc county, has an ice-house and is to have a two-mile race track.

The general impression in Eureka is that the Wales Con. is not much of a mine.

Captain T. G. Taylor has declined to accept the position of superintendent of the Sierra Nevada mine.

The Enterprise says that the new development on the 2400 level of the Sierra Nevada is one of much promise.

The night-watchman of Belmont reports that he can see as many as ten coyotes in the main street of that town any night.

During the past year 287 deer were killed by various hunting parties in the vicinity of Upper Soda Springs, Lincoln county.

Maple sugar has been made by Joseph Pippin, at the Santa Cruz Powder Works, from the sap obtained in the vicinity.

A stage was compelled to halt near Roseburg, Oregon, while two able-bodied bears fought out a difficulty on the public highway.

P. T. Dittmas was recently killed by a snow-slide at Tennessee ravine, about two and a half miles above Poker Flat, Sierra county.

At Mayfield, last Sunday, a 12-year-old lad named Boden, was blown up with giant powder cartridges which he had stolen. Little hope of his recovery.

Golden Bros. of Truckee, are getting out 4,000,000 feet of square timber for the Eureka and California Lumber Co. It is a balance on contract for 1,000,000 feet—furnished that company.

Wheatland, California, now rejoices in a colored justice of the peace. The justice in question is a barber by profession and, while taking up the scales, does not propose to throw away the razor.

Mrs. H. Anderson and C. S. Anderson of East Portland were arrested at Portland Tuesday night, charged with adultery. The accused had a preliminary examination, and were held to await the action of the Grand Jury.

A stranger arrived at Yreka on the Oregon stage sometime Wednesday morning, and before 9 o'clock he had taken a few hands at poker, got drunk, was whipped three times, and finally locked up. This would be considered quick work anywhere.

The Supreme Court has remanded the case of Sprague, of Ventura, convicted of the murder of T. Wallace More, to the lower court with instructions to proceed according to law—that is, the defendant must be present in the court when convicted and sentenced.

Latest advices from Lake county, Oregon, are of a more favorable character. The snow, which has been several feet deep in places, is gradually disappearing, to the relief of stockmen. Sikes Worden, writing from Linkville under a late date, says that at least one-fifth of the stock is likely to perish.

Z. B. Tinkham, treasurer of Mono county, has applied to the Supreme Court for a writ of habeas corpus. Tinkham is now confined in the county jail of Mono for refusing to obey the mandate of the court of that county to pay a warrant to a certain individual. The refusal is based on the alleged fact that the warrant was illegal.

The Nevada (Cal.) Transcript says: Al. Powell, a miner working for the North Bloomfield Company, committed suicide Friday morning by cutting his throat from ear to ear. He came to this state many years ago and made much money. He returned east and invested his fortune in business, lost it all, then came back and went at hard work again. His misfortunes preyed on his mind and led him to drink.

Yankee Check.

Capt. Daily ordered his company to kill up all the dust they could at Yellow Tavern, Va., while out skirmishing one day in 1864, while he dashed into the camp of a Confederate regiment and demanded its surrender. The audacity of the plan nearly insured its success, for the Captain's demand was followed by a surrender of the colors; but Col. Haggood, the commander, came upon the ground in time to send him back with a bullet wound through his body. This is the story that Daily tells in his application to Congress for a pension; and the good corroborates it.

A Thorough Success.

The "Quincy System" has been given a trial in one of the Boston primary schools, and thorough success was the result. A writer in the Herald, of Boston, says that in a few months the little ones, many of whom did not know their letters, have learned to read and write correctly, not only in printed text-books but in script. They also do sums in simple arithmetic with remarkable facility. In a class of sixty, all of them under seven years of age, there were at least forty whose chirography was better than that of the average graduate of our grammar and high schools.

Unholy and Hatefulness.

From the New York Sun.
Meanwhile Grant marches steadily on toward the third term, and all the patriotic voters of the State—by whatever party names they may hitherto have been called and known—should unite, under the name and principles of George Washington, to thwart and defeat his unholy and ravenous ambition.

The above offer is genuine, although at first sight you would consider it impossible. We will explain—Since we first established our business here, March 1st, 1878, we have paid particular attention to the buying of goods, and have secured the best of the market, and have been able to sell at a low price, as low as one-tenth their value, and in no instance have we paid over one-sixth the manufacturer's price. Since starting we have always been able to dispose of these goods in Chicago and through our regular customers throughout the country at nearly regular prices, as fast as we could procure them, but owing to the large number of "baiters" among the heaviest dealers and manufacturers throughout this and other countries during the months of June, July and August (the time when the jewelry business is at its height), we have now on hand an immense stock of the most desirable goods we have ever handled, and which we will sell at lower prices than ever before. In order to dispose of this entire stock in the most speedy manner possible, and make room for new goods which we shall continue to buy, we have hit upon the following novel plan: We propose to give you a list of the most desirable of these goods, containing each article its regular retail value, and sell to you at the rate of Five Dollars worth for $1. For instance, on receipt of 10 cts. we will send you, FORWARD, any article to the value of $1 50; on receipt of $1, articles to the value of $2 50, and so on, until the entire list. Below we give a list of the most valuable of these goods.

"The Sentinel of Chicago, Sept. 9, says: 'We call the attention of our readers to the new advertisement of the late firm of Hageman & Schooling, No. 136 E. Washington street, Chicago. What the 'Inventors' Agency agree to do, they will do. The Sentinel has advertised for the concern since its first publication, and we have yet to hear of the first complaint against it.'"
"The Chicago Express, Sept. 9, says: 'The attention of readers is called to the advertisement of the 'Inventors' Agency, office and rooms located at 116 Washington St., Chicago. From personal inquiry and on the recommendation of the city press, we think our friends can do no better than to patronize this line. Give them a trial.'"

MIDDLE-AGED MEN.

There are many at the age of thirty and sixty who are troubled with too frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation and a weakening of the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examining the urinary deposits aropy sediment will often be found, and some small particles of albumen will appear, or the color will be of a thin milky hue, again changing to a dark and torpid appearance. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is the second stage of seminal weakness. Dr. S. will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration of the genital-urinary organs.

Office Hours—10 to 4 and 6 to 8, Sundays from 10 to 11 A. M. Consultation Free. Thorough examination and advice $2 00. P. S. For private diseases of short standing a course of moderate doses of the above medicine, with necessary instructions, will send to any address on receipt of Ten Dollars.
